

MHIN is pleased to announce the availability of the Cerner PowerNote Content. Users will see this content as of Monday, August 20, 2007. These pownote templates are more diagnosis or disease path specific. Functionality is primarily the same, with a few added features, including:

- Documentation based on the 1997 Documentation Guidelines for E&M Services for the Review of Systems and Physical Exam
- More consistency in method of charting, resulting in ease of use
- Charting can be done from the table of contents pane
- Provides the ability to use clinical diagnosis
- Provides the ability to document in-house procedures
- Provides the ability to pull in and utilize anatomical drawings
- Documentation choices are determined by patient gender and age, where applicable

NOTE: Users are NOT required to use this pownote content! If preferred, continue using the custom built pownotes. Mark the existing notes as “favorites” so they will appear in favorites folder, and use them from there.

 New content is identified by the “2G” in the description.

View from Catalog tab. Content is found under each category.

View custom built notes saved to the Favorites tab.

At your convenience, try a note or two! See how you like it!
